Everett, of Guntersville. Recently agitation was started in Huntsville for a bridge at Whitesburg, but according to a story in the Huntsville Telegram, Huntsville will aid the Guntersville project.

The matter was brought up in Huntsville several days ago because of the urgent need of a bridge, due to the fast increasing traffic over the highway south of here. Guntersville wants the bridge and, although the plan of the promoters here did not provide for building the bridge at Guntersville, all local interests here will do everything possible to aid the Guntersville project.

Mr. Everett states in his letter that the people of Guntersville and Marshall county are enthusiastic over the proposition and are confident that they will succeed in getting the bridge.

NORTH ALABAMA TO RETURN A BIG MAJORITY FAVOR OF BETTER ROADS

Morgan County Strong for the Bond Issue It is Said.

MUCH OPPOSITION IN THE SOUTHERN TIER
Active Campaign is Being Waged for Success of the Amendment.

North Alabama is strong for the $25,000,000 good roads bond issue but a big majority must be polled in the northern counties to offset opposition in some of the southern counties, it was stated by good roads enthusiasts here today.

Morgan County will roll up a big majority in favor of the amendment, persons with their political ear to the ground, declare, but they insist that the vote must not be light if the bond issue is to pass.

As one citizen stated today: "Opponents of the bond issue are expecting to vote—every one of them. They realize that every argument in the case is in favor of the bond issue, but they are counting upon the lack of interest of those who favor the issue and the solidity of the opposition to defeat the amendment."

"In South Alabama there is much opposition to the amendment. In North Alabama, a big majority should be given or the measure will fail."

Every citizen today was urged to go to the polls on February 16 and cast his ballot. Lack of interest will cause defeat of the amendment, highway enthusiasts declared.

Another prominent resident of Morgan declared: "Morgan County will give a majority for the bond issue. That is practically assured. Yet there is some opposition to the measure in this county. Some citizens do not yet understand that the passage of the amendment will not increase taxes. They do not believe that the automobilists will pay for the roads. I heard one man say 'it is too good to be true.' We must wage an active campaign to convert those opponents to our cause, for every vote is going to count heavily in the final wind-up."

"I have been told that in some of the Southern counties there is quite a good deal of opposition to the amendment. Morgan cannot afford to take a chance of returning even a small majority for the bonds—it must be a big majority. Pay your poll tax and vote to get Alabama out of the mud."

WEATHER FORECAST

Generally cloudy tonight and Thursday; probably rain.

The strange love of a fantastic bird, common in Europe, but never before found in the United States, for the American doughboy is believed to have caused a member of the feathery tribe to come to America and to meet its death at the hands of two local hunters—Elmer Lloyd and W. A. Hill, prominent druggists.

According to Dr. H. D. Greer and Charles Smyrle, the strange bird was seen recently by Messrs. Hill and Lloyd while on a hunting trip and today they received information that the two hunters, while in the woods for quail, had the great good fortune to again glimpse the bird. According to the information received here it was killed and is expected to be on exhibition within a few days.

Descriptions of the bird are meagre, but it is said to have been a cross between a heron and an eider-duck, a variety of the feathery tribe found before only in Europe. It is said to be very wild, but displayed much tameness when near persons dressed in the uniform of Uncle Samuel's army.

bird in America, following announcement of the capture, were almost unanimous in setting forth the theory that the love of the doughboy must have caused the bird to become a stowaway on a returning transport and that it followed the uniform back to America.

BEE KEEPER CHOSEN
OVER HIS PROTEST

One Defendant Goes Home Despite Refusal of Court to Excuse Him.

(International News Service.)
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Jan. 29.—Counsel for United States Senator Truman H. Newberry and his 134 lieutenants charged with election frauds in the campaign of 1919 scored a point at the opening of their trial today.

Over the objection of government attorneys, they are permitted to question veniremen on the latter's knowledge of Henry Ford's "propaganda" and the open letter from Lieutenant Governor Dickenson to Newberry calling to the latter's attention the large campaign expenditures and asking him to quit the race.

The government counsel, headed by Attorney W. A. Eichorn, raised objections continuously to this line of questioning, but Judge Clarence Sessions, who is presiding at the trial, allowed it to proceed.

Attorney George Nichols led the questioning for the defense. Twelve veniremen were called to the box before the questioning started. Judge Sessions explained that the government would be allowed six peremptory challenges and the defense collectively ten.

Louis A. McIntyre, of Boyne City, was the first venireman examined. He said his business was keeping bees; that the latter were maintained down in his cellar and that they needed him more than the jury did.

"I've simply got to get back to look after those bees," he told the court.

Only one of the defendants was missing when court opened, Frank Ford, of Kalamazoo. He returned to Kalamazoo yesterday despite refusal of the court to permit him to do so, and Judge Sessions threatened to send an officer after him.

The work of jury selection proceeded briskly. By noon two of the venire had been tentatively accepted after a challenge by the defense had been overruled. The two were Louis McIntyre and Frank Armstrong, a bank cashier, from Alanson.

VOTE FOR THE GOOD ROADS BOND ISSUE

UNFRIENDLY NOTORIETY FOR ADMIRAL SIMS

Admiral Sims, of the American navy, has forgotten the admonition given the shoemaker to "stick to his last," and in consequence is now being played openly and vigorously by democrats who resent his intrusion into the realm of politics as the ally of the republicans. Representative Byrnes, of South Carolina, is a speech on the floor of the House Tuesday referred to the famous sea dog as "a hyphenated politician," and charged him with having "slandered the army."

That Sims did slander the army must be admitted, if he charged that Pershing's big road roller had broken down, and Mr. Byrnes said he did. The American people, while deeply appreciative of the heroic service rendered by the navy, will insist that the army have fair play. It was in bad taste for the commander of the sea forces abroad to seek to gather glory for the navy by disparaging the army, just as it was in bad taste for him to seek to gain favor from the British by belittling the part which the American navy played in keeping the seven seas open, despite the perils of submarines.

Admiral Sims has simply been talking too much, a most costly thing for a higher-up to do. Before he is allowed to drop out of the limelight he will no doubt have a much higher regard for the bridled tongue and that silence that is golden.

THE STATUS OF THE REDS PLACED BEYOND CONTROVERSY

The recent official report of William W. Wilson, Secretary of Labor, a strong labor unionist and formerly at the head of the United Mine workers of America, places beyond doubt from any source whatsoever, the true status of the communist party in America. Mr. Wilson's report was occasioned by his formal ruling as to the deportation of one Engelbert Presis, an Austrian arrested in recent raids by federal authorities. According to the statement, Presis admitted that he was a member and leader in the communist party. From this admission, the secretary of labor proceeds to say that the thing next to determine was whether or not Presis' party is revolutionary to the extent of advocating force in accomplishing its purposes against the government. After an exhaustive study of the platforms and manifestos of the party Mr. Wilson concludes in the following language:

The only conclusion is that the communist party of America is an organization that believes in, teaches, and advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the government of the United States.

The Secretary precedes this conclusion with the following among many other quotations taken from the communist's official manifesto:

The communist party shall participate in mass strikes, not only to achieve the immediate purposes of the strike, but to develop the revolutionary implications of the mass strike.

Page thirty of the Manifesto, explains the meaning of the "implications of the mass strike as follows:

"The revolutionary era compels the proletariat to make use of the means of battle which will concentrate its entire energies, namely, mass action, with its logical resultant, direct conflict with the governmental machinery in open combat. All other methods, such as revolutionary use of bourgeois parliamentarism, will be of only secondary significance."

Speaking further of strikes the manifesto says:

"Strikes are to be broadened and deepened, making them general and militant, and efforts made to develop their revolutionary implications. The strike is to be used not simply as a means to secure redress of economic wrongs, but as a means through which the government may be conquered and destroyed."

On page nine of the manifesto as quoted by Secretary Wilson the following is stated as to the purpose of the communists:

Communism does not propose to "capture" the bourgeois parliamentary state, but to conquer and destroy it."

The proletarian class struggle is essentially a political struggle, * * * The objective is the conquest by the proletariat of the power of the state.

It would seem from this exposure by Mr. Wilson, that there were such things active in the U. S. as "reds" after all, and that the federal agents had have a little more to do than to mark time and open their registered letters on governmental pay days.

Voice of the People

THE PLUMB PLAN

Editor Albany-Decatur Daily:

I hope you will allow me a short space in your paper, to call attention to the Plumb plan, which is exciting so much interest every where. Briefly stated the plan stands for democracy in industry—in one of the largest industries in our country—the railroads. All the reasons that can be given for cooperation in any thing can be given in favor of the Plumb plan.

As the trouble in any business generally comes up over what is made in it or the surplus earnings, I wish to call especial attention to the way the Plumb plan purposes to look after surplus. For the sake of being clear and brief, I will quote the questions and answers on this point as given in some of the official literature, I have on the subject:

What becomes of the surplus?

"After operating expenses are paid, and fixed charges are met, including the interest on outstanding government securities, the surplus is divided equally between the Government and the men. The employee's portion is to be divided between the managerial and classified employees, the former receiving double the rate received by the latter class. This is not a profit, since the corporation has no capital. What the men receive is a dividend on efficiency."

Is this a bonus system?

"No, it is giving those who increase production a share of the results their increased effort has produced; and this share is theirs for as long as they are actually in the service, and is not forfeitable."

Why do operating officials receive the larger rate of dividend?

"Because it serves as a greater stimulus to the group with the most responsibility. And since the operating directors to outvote the public's directors in raising wages beyond a reasonable level. The chief argument against the plan is that the public loses control of its own property, and that the men in charge cannot be prevented from combining to pay themselves extortionate wages. This method of sharing dividends sets up a natural barrier against collusion."

As you doubtless know, the Plumb plan provides for 15 directors, five each from, the public, the managers and the men, respectively.

Is this the only protection for the public?

"No, the rate making power remains with the Interstate Commerce Commission, and if wages were raised so high that rates had to be increased, the Commission could refuse to change them, and shippers might appeal to the courts for redress. If the operation by the directors results in a deficit Congress can revoke their charter."

Does this difference in dividends create hostility between officials and men?

"No, because without harmony between them neither group can earn dividends. An official in working for his own dividend is working for the dividend of his subordinates, for one cannot gain unless all gain."

From what I can read from the address of Walter D. Hines, in New York, on January 7th, he is not only opposed to the return of the railroads to private control at this time, but seems to hold views similar to the Plumb plan. I have been told that Mr. McAdoo and Mr. Bryan are members of the Plumb Plan league. But however that may be, I know there is a large membership forming here and all over in favor of the Plumb plan.

Yours very truly,

H. C. HUCHISON.

Proof of Purity

From cleanser to crowner, Chero-Cola is handled by automatic conveyors, but to establish proof positive of purity, every bottle of Chero-Cola is hand inspected before leaving the plant, by being placed over a powerful electric light.

Uniform amount of ingredients, perfect carbonation and freedom from all impurities are the composite reasons for Chero-Cola's claim for pre-eminent popularity.

That night of whirling snow,
What other nights have brought to you
I shall not know.

I never even heard your name,
And hardly saw your face;
Yet you poured out your heart to me

But in my heart your heart is safe,

SUN'S RAYS FOUND HELPFUL

Beneficial in the Treatment of Tuberculosis and of Great Value in Other Diseases.

The simplest treatment for tuberculosis, which is nothing more than exposure to the rays of the sun in the open air, which has been practiced successfully in Switzerland for many years, has recently received an impetus in this country by the suggestion of Dr. Guy Hinsdale, calling attention to the great value of this treatment and urging the establishment of a sanatorium in southern California, Colorado or New Mexico where the greatest amount of sunshine is to be found. Some seashore locations are almost, if not quite, as suitable as far as the amount of sunshine is concerned, but there are some other favorable features in the southern and western locations. Sunlight has been found to be one of the best cures for torpid wounds, gangrene, frostbite and other similar lesions. It is not the heat in the rays that is beneficial, but the blue and violet rays, and they are strongly bactericidal. But the sunlight is not merely bactericidal; it is a powerful stimulant to every act of animal life, particularly the oxidation which gives the blood its power to eliminate disease.

Red-Blooded Men in Demand

Each Year Pepto-Mangan Restores Thousands to the Red-blooded Class.

Modern business can't wait for the easily-exhausted, nervous, weak-bodied man or woman. Every executive is on the constant lookout for enthusiastic, vigorous, red-blooded individuals; for he knows that with a strong body and a keen mind, such employees can easily stand the strain of heavy responsibilities, quickly master their work and develop into important positions.

After all, being "live," energetic, and full-blooded is just a matter of whether or not a man or woman believes a healthy physical condition worth while, for unless you are afflicted with some deep-seated ailment, the intelligent use of Gude's Pepto-Mangan is all that is usually necessary.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan soon produces marked beneficial results. The tired, worn-out, run-down feeling disappears. And in its stead a vigorous wholesomeness and happiness proves that the blood has been supplied with the sorely needed richness to supply the entire system with renewed strength.

When you buy Pepto-Mangan at your druggist's, be sure the name "Gude's" is on the package. You can get it in either liquid or tablet form. If the name "Gude's" is not on the package it is not Pepto-Mangan. —Advertisement.

Ancients Used Slang.
An ancient use of a modern slang idiom, was mentioned by T. E. Peet, the lecturer in Egyptology at Manchester university, according to the Manchester Guardian. He said that the Egyptians always used the verb "to do" in referring to a visit to a country just as an American today speaks of "doing" Paris or London. After this it will not surprise us to learn that Hannibal considered his expeditions as nothing more than "stunts" or that the Roman populace was rather annoyed when Julius Caesar was "done in."

Resolutions Passed
at the Annual Meeting of Stockholders
Morgan County National Bank.

Whereas, on February 16th, 1920 the people of Alabama will vote on an amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, allowing the State to issue twenty five million dollars of Bonds, the proceeds of which are to be expended in the building and construction of good roads throughout the State of Alabama, and

Whereas, if said amendment is carried by a vote of the people, said sum will be supplemented by the United States Government to the amount of $25,000,000 to be likewise expended in the construction of good roads in the State of Alabama, and

Whereas, said proposed constitutional amendment provides for a sinking fund and the payment of said Bonds at maturity out of license taxes to be imposed upon automobiles and motor trucks alone, and will not impose one cent of indebtedness against the people or any citizen of the State of Alabama, therefore,

Be it resolved by the stockholders of the Morgan County National Bank at its Annual Meeting, that we urgently urge the stockholders and citizens and all voters to cast their votes in favor of said Constitutional Amendment, thereby contributing to the establishment, and maintenance of general prosperity, good churches, good school houses, good roads, and increased population, and good Banking and good times generally.—Advertisement. DECLARES HE IS
HIGHLY PLEASED WITH NEW REMEDY

His Kidneys Were in Terrible Condition, Deep Sediment in Water, With Bad Odor and Feverish.

Great Relief for Him by Taking Drecto, the New Root and Herb Medicine.

"I am highly pleased with my experience with the new remedy Drecto. My kidneys were truly in a terrible condition when I began the treatment. My water smelled so bad, had to keep a vessel covered up; was of high color and feverish," said Mr. H. J. Carthy, who lives on the Government Street Loop, Mobile, Ala.

"I suffered from such pains in my back that I couldn't stoop over far enough to tie my shoes. I was stiff and my joints hurt me continually. My bowels were bound up and my stomach hurt me, often filling up with foul gas, and kept me check up. My liver was inactive, which gave me headaches; dizzy spells, coated tongue and that lazy, drowsy, no-account feeling. I seemed to have lost my energy; my sleep was broken and failed to refresh me, and my appetite went off to nothing."

"I kept reading every day about Drecto and as it seemed to fit my case exactly, I bought a bottle and that was the best money I ever spent. Drecto has knocked my pain higher than a kite. My back is limber and supple. I can stoop and bend at will; bowels acting regular and easy; rheumatism ceased, and my muscles normal. Drecto is fine medicine and I gladly recommend it."

Drecto is made from the juices and extracts of many medicinal herbs, which act on the vital organs in a pleasant and prompt manner. Drecto is now sold by all good druggists throughout the country and is highly recommended in Albany by Albany Drug Co., and in Decatur by Hilda Drug Co.—Advertisement.

Why Brunswick Tires
Win Preference

There are two main reasons—one, the name itself, which certifies supreme value—the other, that time tells the same story.

Thus reputation and performance unite in giving you all you expect—and more.

Yet Brunswicks cost no more than like-type tires. Many motorists would pay more readily, but the Brunswick idea is to GIVE the utmost, rather than to GET the utmost. And this has been true since 1845. You can appreciate what Brunswick Standards mean by trying ONE Brunswick Tire. It will be a revelation. You'll agree that you could not buy a better, regardless of price.

And, like other motorists, you'll decide to have ALL Brunswicks. Then you'll know supreme satisfaction from your tires—longer life, minimum trouble, lower cost.

SAYS BOLSHEVISM ONLY BARBARISM

ARCHBISHOP OF WARSAW DIS-CUSSES SYSTEM THAT THREATENS EUROPE.

By EDWARD STRUTT,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

ROME, Jan. 28.—The Archbishop of Warsaw, Cardinal Kakowski, who was appointed a Prince of the Church of the Holy Father at the recent Consistory, has made some interesting statements to a representative of the Catholic Corriere d'Italia. After expressing the gratitude of Poland toward the Holy See for its invaluable support and encouragement both during the troublous times of the world war and in the subsequent period which enabled her to rank among free nations, Cardinal Kakowski dwelt upon the Bolshevik danger. His Eminence, being a native of what was hitherto known as "Russian Poland," is an authority on the mentality and general conditions of the Russian people, so that his statement is especially valuable and interesting.

"In Europe," said the Cardinal "Bolshevism is not understood, even by those who make a special study of the subject. The Socialists, themselves do not understand it. They mix it up with maximalism, and this is also the view that the public holds with conviction. Now, all that is an error, and a very big error. Maximalism is a positive programme of governments and represents as the word itself indicates the maximum of proletarian claims that Socialism proposes to put into effect in the case that it should get the power into its own hand. Bolshevism, on the contrary, has no positive project. It has a purely negative programme, that of destroying everything, and is nothing else than the traditional Russian nihilism which but too many have forgotten. The object of Bolshevism is to bring everything down to one level by means of destroying everything that there is in existence at the present moment of social and human elevation. And this programme is so radical that there is not a single element of culture that can stand before it. The blind brutality of ignorance is its only ideal—if the word may be excused—which the masses that have been put into a state of convulsion by the propagandists of Bolshevism are able to conceive. One of the commonest and oftenest repeated cries during the days of the Bolshevik tumults was this: "Dovoi gramotni," a phrase which needs several words for its proper translation into English, and means "Down with those who can read and write!"

"You will understand what a danger to Europe and to the whole of civilization would be an eventual diffusion of such a barbaric movement. And it is for this reason that Poland, in opposing herself to bolshevism, has taken once more her post of sentinel in the advance guard of civilization toward the East, for the benefit of Europe. And Poland will not go back on her traditions.

"My views as to the religious future of Russia are good, however. Whatever regime Russia settles upon eventually, she can never return to the intolerance that there was against Catholics under the Czar's regime. Religious liberty will remain an established fact in the history of that country.

"The Orthodox Church has not yet recovered from the severe blow that it sustained from the fall of the Romanoffs. Russian Orthodoxy endeavored to put life into itself and get another hierarchical head, and the bishops elected ahead from among themselves, the Patriarch of Moscow. But the results of this attempt have not justified the hopes that were entertained of it. There has never been a very intimate and efficient following round this head. And the Bolshevik dictatorship has done the rest, for under pressure from that quarter the Patriarch has issued two pastoral letters which are rather favorable than otherwise to Bolshevism; a proceeding "which has naturally not brought any credit to him."

Odorous Epidemic.

"A friend of mine has kept himself and his family immune from influenza in a district sorely smitten by eating spring onions."—Glasgow (Scotland) Evening Post.

Why Experiment when it comes to selecting a musical instrument for your home?

We have spent 16 years doing that very thing for you.

We have sampled every standard make of Talking Machine on the market, and have selected the Columbia Grafonola above all the others as the best constructed and most durable instrument to offer our trade.

In selecting your machine don't overlook this fact: First, decide the kind of records you shall expect to use. 90 per cent of all records made are of the lateral cut type, which must be played with a pointed needle. Four concerns who previously made vertical cut records, have recently turned to the lateral cut type.

The Columbia Grafonola plays lateral cut records with changeable points only. Your principal record selections will always be made in Columbia Stores.

Columbia Records play better on Columbia Grafonolas because they are made for each other.

Let us demonstrate by all means, before you select for your home.

ALABAMIANS— IT IS UP TO YOU

THE Federal Government has appropriated nearly six million dollars to aid Alabama in the construction of good roads. The Federal Government is making plans to continue giving this aid to the states after the present appropriation expires.

To secure Federal Aid, Alabama must put up an amount equal to the Federal appropriations. But, under existing conditions, the state cannot make such appropriation because of lack of funds in the treasury. The present Federal appropriation lasts for only three years, and, if not used in that time, goes back into the Federal treasury.

Other states are taking advantage of this opportunity whether Alabama does or not. Alabamians, if they let their chance slip by, will have the satisfaction of knowing that they are helping to pay in Federal taxes for the good roads and increased commercial prosperity of other states, without reaping any benefit themselves.

The $25,000,000 bond issue will enable Alabama to cover Uncle Sam's offer dollar for dollar, as it is offered.

V-o-t-e "Y-E-S" ON FEBRUARY 16th

REMEMBER—It is not only your patriotic duty to vote for the good roads bond amendment, but it is also your duty to explain its provisions to your neighbors and friends, and urge their support. Use your influence to get Alabama out of the mud.

Glass Tumblers.

Years ago Max Miller was giving a luncheon at All Souls college, Oxford, to Princess Alice and her husband. The curiosity of all strangers present was aroused by a set of little round bowls of silver about the size of an orange. They were filled to the brim with the famous ale brewed at the college. When one of these little bowls was empty it was placed upon the table, mouth downward. Instantly, so perfect was its balance, it flew back to its proper position, as if asking to be filled again. No matter how it was treated—trundled along the floors, balanced carefully on its side, dropped suddenly upon the soft, thick carpet—up it rolled again and settled itself with a few gentle shakings and swayings into its place, like one of the Indian rubber tumble dolls that babies delight in.

This was the origin of the word tumbler. At first the vessel was made of silver. Then, when glass became common, the round glasses that stood on a flat base superseded the exquisitely balanced silver spheres, and stole their names so successfully that you have to go to All Souls to see the real thing.—Dearborn Independent.

A Gentleman.

It appears that the most general idea which people have formed of a gentleman is that of a person of fortune above the vulgar, and embellished by manners that are fashionable in high life. In this case, fortune and fashion are the two constituent ingredients in the composition of modern gentlemen; for whatever the fashion may be, whether moral or immoral, for or against reason, right or wrong, it is equally the duty of a gentleman to conform. And yet I apprehend that true gentility is altogether independent of fortune or fashion, of time, customs, or opinions of any kind. The very same qualities that constituted a gentleman in the first age of the world, are permanently invariable and indispensably necessary to the constitution of the same character to the end of time.—Henry Brooke.

The Better Maxim.

"Look on your best friends with the thought that they may one day become your worst enemies," was an ancient maxim of worldly prudence. It is for us to reverse this maxim and rather say, "Look on your worst enemies with the thought that they may one day become your best friends."—Dean Stanley.

LIGHT THAT PRODUCES SOUND

May at First Seem Incredible, But Experiments Have Proved It to Be a Fact.

Incredible as it may seem, a beam of light can be made to produce sound. A ray of sunlight is thrown through a lens onto a glass vessel containing lampblack, colored silk or worsted, or any like substance. A disk having slits or openings in it is made to revolve swiftly in this beam of light, so as to "cut it up," thus causing alternate flashes of light and shadow. When one places his ear to the glass vessel he hears strange sounds so long as the flashing beam falls upon the vessel.

A still more extraordinary effect is produced when the beam of sunlight is made to pass through a prism so as to produce what is called the solar spectrum. The disk is turned and the colored light of the rainbow is made to break through it. Now if the ear be placed to the vessel containing the silk or other material, as the colored lights of the spectrum fall upon it, sounds will be given out by the different parts of the spectrum, and there will be silence in other parts.

For instance, if the vessel contains red worsted and the green light flashes upon it loud sounds will be given forth. Only feeble sounds will be heard when the red and the blue parts of the rainbow fall upon the vessel. Other colors will produce no sounds at all. Green silk gives out sound best in a red light. Every kind of material gives more or less sound in different colors and no sound at all in others.

HAD ITS BIRTH IN RIDICULE

Explanation of Frequently Heard Expression "Giving Him a Roland for an Oliver."

The expression "A Roland for an Oliver," meaning to match one incredible story with another still more incredible, is derived from the fanciful tales told by the old chroniclers concerning the marvelous deeds accomplished by Roland and Oliver, the two most famous palladins of Charlemagne. It is said that these two wonderful heroes were so marvelously matched that neither was able to surpass the other, and, accordingly to test their relative superiority they met in single combat for five consecutive days on an island in the River Rhine without either gaining the least advantage over the other. At the end of the battle of Roncesvalles, it is said Roland was actually wounded by Oliver, who had himself received a death blow. From the ridiculous manner in which the adventures of these two heroes were recounted, the saying, "A Roland for an Oliver," grew the matching of one lie with one still greater.

Grub for Goldfish.

In Japan, where fancy varieties of goldfish are highly esteemed, the "lion headed" sometimes fetching $100 a pair, silkworm cocoons (after the silk is wound off them) are used to feed the young in breeding ponds. For this purpose they are dried, pounded to a fine powder and mixed with wheat-starch. Chopped earthworms and mosquito larvae supplement this item of nursery diet.

A curious practice of the Japanese is that of ornamenting goldfishes with coats-of-arms, floral devices, etc., the designs being etched with dilute hydrochloric acid.

BETTER THAN WHISKEY FOR COLDS AND FLU

New Elixir, Called Aspirinal, Medicated With Latest Scientific Remedies, Used and Endorsed by European and American Army Surgeons to Cut Short a Cold and Prevent Complications.

Every Druggist in U. S. Instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter If Relief Does Not Come Within Two Minutes.

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the year in the drug trade is Aspirinal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so all you have to do to get rid of that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinal and tell him to serve you two teaspoonfuls with four teaspoonfuls of water in a glass. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and babies, for Aspirinal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for infants and children.—(Adv.)

Facts Pertaining to the Future Clothing Situation

The turn of the year brings to the foreground of consideration in the mind of every clothing man the following questions: What is going to happen to the price of clothing? What is the demand for clothing likely to be during the coming year?

Our business forces upon us the gathering of data for the determination of these tendencies, which we believe may be of interest and value to our trade and public and as it is our purpose to acquaint you with salient developments in the industry, we submit to you the following.

As far as the price of clothing is concerned, the following happenings will have a bearing thereon:

First, a large wage increase took place in the clothing industry on Dec. 1st all over the country, amounting to about 25 per cent, and we understand another will take effect March 1st, amounting to 20 per cent. A large increase amounting to a minimum of 12 per cent and in some cases considerably more, took place in the wages of weavers in all the wool and worsted mills. A large increase of wages has taken place in all the cotton textile plants throughout New England, where linings and trimmings are manufactured. It would therefore appear that, as far as labor, which is directly bearing on the production of woollens, linings and clothing is concerned, is still on an upward trend; and immigration being eliminated for some time to come, there is no prospect of a reversal of this situation.

As to the other factor which determines the price of the raw material going into clothing—namely, plentitude of production—it is a well known fact that the mills of England, both as to woolen, silk and cotton textiles, are completely sold up for the year 1920, and the Daily News Record of January 10th brings an authoritative report from Manchester that all bookings from now on are for the year 1921. This position has been further emphasized by the fact that one of the largest English manufacturers of woolen, who has been in the habit of selling a very considerable portion of his production in the United States, is so committed to European and South American markets that he cannot accept an order for a single piece for this country, he being able to sell to other countries at a much higher price than American importers are prepared to pay.

The position of our American textile mills as far as production is concerned is evidenced by an expert from a letter written to the Styleplus people, from whom we buy a great deal of our clothing, by one of the largest mills in this country on December 27th, which reads as follows:

"Mill conditions have not improved and we now find it necessary to confirm the letter sent with your order, as we shall be unable to deliver within 30 per cent of the goods for which we have taken orders, and we must also extend the deliveries to July."

It must therefore be clear that production in the country has by no means reached the level where it satisfies the demand.

Based upon these underlying factors, there have been opened during the first week in January a number of fall fabrics, all of which show exceedingly heavy increase over the basis of a year ago and considerable increase over the basis of lightweight fabrics for the spring season. Side by side with this has gone a very material rise in the price of silks, satin and all kinds of linings and trimmings. In consequence of all of this, as far as the price of clothing is concerned, the fall 1920 clothing must of necessity show a very heavy advance over heavyweight prices of the year 1919 and a very considerable advance over the prices of the spring 1920 season.

In answer to the question of whether the demand for clothing is to keep up, we ought to consider the following fundamentals.

First. Our foodstuffs are still needed in Europe, which insures a high level for farm products and prosperity for the agricultural districts.

Second. Our cotton is not only needed in Europe, but Japan is constantly increasing its demand for this American staple, since the billion people of Asia have through the war gained an unprecedented financial power, which manifests itself in their vastly increased purchases of goods of all kinds, mainly, however, for apparel made out of cotton.

Third. For five years there has been no building done throughout the world. In America alone it is estimated that we are short a million houses. This will insure steady employment and high prices for all the building trades, the lumber and cement industry, as well as all correlated constructions interested.

Fourth. Under government control our railroads have been notoriously starved, and the estimate of the best railroad experts is that the next four or five years will have to be consumed in rebuilding, repairing and replacing railroad equipment. In consequence, the unfilled orders of the United States Steel Company, the leading steel concern, shows a steady increase of about a half million tons per month for the several months past, so that by now the United States Steel Company is approaching a record-breaking amount of unfilled orders, giving evidence of the fact that this basic industry, which can well be regarded as the thermometer of our entire industrial life, is assured of continuous and profitable business for 1920.

It is not our desire to prophesy. We are perfectly well aware of the dangers inherent in the financial situation of Europe and its possible reaction upon ourselves, but we feel that the basic facts as recited above, brought to bear upon the individual problem of every clothing consumer not only ought to help him to clarify his mind as to why clothing will be higher in 1920, by work being good all over the nation.

Summing up, clothing is an essential necessity. The life of a suit and overcoat is necessarily limited. From best statistics there is not an excessive amount of clothing in use and in the retailers' stocks. There is none in the manufacturers' hands. Taking this condition and our wide prosperity into consideration, there is bound to be a steady demand for some time to come.

In conclusion, the present changing price level of everything is making consumers more discriminating and is directing their minds to well known brands, whether clothing, shoes, hats, soap, music records, etc.

We sell and make good Kuppenheimer and Styleplus clothing, known the world over.

Respectfully,

The Pangs of Rheumatism

The Right Treatment Will Break Your Shackles.

You who are afflicted with Rheumatism know from experience just how excruciating the pangs of the disease are. You know also, if you have had rheumatism for any length of time that there is no real relief to be expected from the use of liniments and lotions.

Rheumatism is a stubborn disease, and its pangs and pains cannot be wiped out as if by magic. A disease that is so full of torture and renders so many people absolutely helpless, is a deep-seated one; it is not on the surface, hence it cannot be reached by external surface remedies.

Lotions, liniments and ointments applied to the surface may in some cases deaden the pain for the time being, but until you attack the disease at its foundation, you are making no progress toward a cure. Many forms of Rheumatism are caused by millions of tiny germs that infest the blood, and until the blood is absolutely freed of these germs, there is no real relief in sight.

In fact the longer you delay treating the disease through the blood, the further you are getting from ridding yourself from the disease. And because so many people treat the pain, and not the disease itself, is one reason why Rheumatism increases in severity year by year.

The most satisfactory remedy for Rheumatism is S. S. S., because it is one of the most thorough blood purifiers known to medical science. This fine old remedy cleanses the blood of all impurities, and is a sure antidote to the germs of Rheumatism. Being purely vegetable, without a particle of mineral or chemical in its composition, it works by eliminating and forcing out of the blood all impurities, acting as a tonic to the entire system at the same time. It has been used for more than fifty years, and scores of sufferers from Rheumatism give it unstinted praise.

S. S. S. is sold by druggists everywhere, and any of them will tell you that it is a thoroughly honest and reliable old remedy. You are invited to write our medical department for full information and advice about the treatment of your own case, for which no charge is made. Address Chief Medical Adviser 12 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

About Sciences and Religions.

The philosophical sciences deal with the general principles, laws or causes that furnish the rational explanation of anything; the rationale by which the facts of any region of knowledge are explained. The phrase is used more particularly in reference to the study of natural philosophy or physics. Empirical methods are those of observation. It is a science that grows out of experience. Such a scientist is versed, or skilled, in collecting facts and from those facts generalizations are made. There are hundreds of religions.

AMUSEMENTS

"THE LITTLE SHEPHERD OF KINGDOM COME"

Dorothy Dunn who has the role of "Melissy" in "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," at the Princess theatre on Friday, Jan. 30, has come to her prominence entirely on merit and she has advanced in her art without regard to the fact that she is a sister of Emma Dunn, the Belasco Star.

"I would advise any girl who has talent and the determination to win to go on the stage," said she without a moment's hesitation when she was interrogated as to the desirability of a career behind the footlights. "I have found the people or the stage are the kindest and best friends in the world. I have played in many Companies and there never was an occasion when, in adversity, there was not the most helpful sympathy from actresses and actors. My pleasantest recollections are of a year and a half I spent in Maude Adams Company in the role of "Wendy" in "Peter Pan." I simply adored the part. Miss Adams was charming. She seemed to make us feel that we were of one family and, we felt we were living the characters that Barrie so delightfully presented in his play. I feel the same towards "Melissy" my present part—she is so human, so real that I cannot but imagine at times that I am really the mountain girl so vividly portrayed by John Fox, Jr. in the book."

ROBT DOWNING AT THE MASONIC SATURDAY, JAN. 31

The citizens of Albany-Decatur remember Robert Downing, the eminent Actor, for his work of the past in such plays as The Gladiator, Virginius, Othello, Ingomar, Damon, Marc Antony, etc. To see this portrayal of "Joe Morgan" in "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," or the Redemption of Joe Morgan will be somewhat of a revelation. In 1908 Mr. Downing left the stage to do Evangelistic work throughout the country, and for ten years he devoted his life to that work, and was finally ordained as a Minister and became the Pastor of the Christian church. When the great fight for prohibition was on, he left his pulpit to produce the play mentioned, and continued to preach in a different way. His success in the play was phenomenal, and he was able to reach thousands with his message, that he could not have reached in any other way. While many have an idea that the play of Ten Nights in a Bar Room is simply a temperance play, and only teaches the evil effects of alcohol, Mr. Downing begs to say, that it not only teaches a lesson on temperance, but is a great object lesson for all who go against the laws of nature and of God. Furthermore, it is a wonderfully interesting play in that it is strongly dramatic, full of powerful situations, plenty of excellent clean, wholesome comedy, with pathos so blended that it holds "as it were the mirror up to nature." Mr. Downing and Company have played this Drama successfully in New York, Buffalo, Cleveland, Baltimore, and many of the largest places throughout the country. He is now nearing his 500th performance, which speaks for itself, as a play that reaches the heart. He is booked to play here Saturday, January 31st at the Masonic theatre and any who desire a good, powerful play, with an actor of merit in the role of Joe Morgan, will do well to secure seats early.

Grove's Tasteless Chili Tonic restores vitality and energy by purifying and enriching the blood. You can soon feel its strengthening, invigorating effect. Price 60c.

Depository and Depositary.

The dictionary defines depository as a warehouse, a depository for goods; a clerk's office for records; a warehouse for storage, etc. A depositary is a person with whom anything is left for lodging in trust; as a trustee; a guardian; one to whom a thing is left for safe keeping. All national banks in the United States that are designated by the government for deposits are rated as depositories; and the government invariably uses the word (depository) for any money, bonds, etc., deposited.

Balancing Trade.

Where one country exports extensively to another and buys nothing from it the checks and drafts given in payment do not balance and it becomes necessary to ship gold or otherwise readjust accounts. This is expensive and makes it necessary to pay a premium in exchange. This premium is virtually an addition to prices paid. When it becomes too high purchases will be made in other markets. Thus will trade be lost unless it is balanced.

United States Korean Treaty.

It was in 1892 that the first treaty with Korea was signed by the United States, and foreigners took up their residence with official sanction at Chemulpo, the seaport of the capital, Seoul. Even with this foothold in the new country, the unwelcome visitors pushed their way but slowly into other parts of the kingdom, and as late as 1897 only a relatively small portion had been visited by white men.—National Geographic Magazine.

Ill and Nervous.

Nurses dislike the season of thunderstorms. "We are not afraid of lightning ourselves," a nurse in a woman's hospital told me, "but it has a harmful effect on the patients. Most sick people fear lightning. In cases of extreme weakness or nervousness a dozen flashes of blinding lightning reduce the patient to a state of utter prostration."
